First of all, we wish to thank and express our gratitude to the founder of this great institution,our devoted parents, loyal teachers and friends of Northampton County, who so liberally cooperated in helping us reach our goal.

With pleasure, we, The Senior Class of 1950, deem it a great privilege and honor to be able to dedicate this, our last achievement in Capeville Consolidated Elementary School, to our late Superintendent, Mr. Ashby S. DeHaven. His sympathetic and thorough understanding of our problems and wise counsel regarding them always will be appreciated and remembered by us.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In September of 1943, we started our Elementary school life in various one, two and three room schools of thiscounty. We were the usual first Graders, afraid, and always ready to cry. We soon became adjusted and fell into step with everyone else. We came up one hundred percent in all efforts that the school put forth that year.

Time moved on and so did we. We became active in all phases of school life. Through out the year we carried our share of the school's burdens and some of us began to develop qualities of leadership. We worked hard and welcomed any encouragement from our teachers.

When the school bell rang in September of 1946 we marched into the Capeville Consolidated Elementary School. The principal called an assembly and immediately directed us to our rooms.We enjoyed the association with 500 or more children. Inspite of our handicaps, we did obtain some personal dignity as a class.

When September 1949 rolled around, we entered the Alma Mata with a thrill in our hearts because we knew this was our last year in"Dear Old C.C.E.S." We gave freely to the T. B. Cause, we supported the March of Dimes Drive, andwe sponsored The Movie, "Girl Loves Boy" We worked hard to raise funds for the year book. Then our minds turned toward graduation. We have done our best and that is all that can be expected of any group. We feel that we will all be better fitted for the experiences which are to follow, because of our teachings here within these revered walls. We leave with our eyes set toward new goals and higher ideals. So Good bye, Dear Alma Mater! Good bye and Good Luck!
